NCUA to Host CLF Policy and Stock Ownership Webinar

The National Credit Union Administration (NCUA) will hold a webinar Monday, August 10th at 1:00 p.m. central time to provide background information about the Central Liquidity Facility's (CLF) recent change to its investment policy and pending transfer of CLF stock ownership from U.S. Central FCU to other credit unions.

Hosted by CLF President J. Owen Cole, the free 1-hour webcast for credit unions will address general CLF structure and operations as well as recent and near-term contemplated changes.

To register online, click here. Participants can register until 12:45 on Monday, August 10th. Registrants must provide first name, last name, organization, and email address. Once registered, participants will receive event verification and a link to access the webcast. Prior to start of the webcast, participants should ensure volume is turned on, webcast pop-ups are permitted, and screen resolution is set to 1024 x 768.

Participants can submit questions throughout the webcast via the Internet. Instructions will be provided at the beginning of the webcast. NCUA will archive the webcast and make it available on their website, www.ncua.gov. The League will notify credit unions as soon as the archive is posted.
